PROGRAMME IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- President Cleveland returned to Washington this afternoon from his hunting trip in the waters of North Carolina. With him were Dr. O'Reilly, Lighthouse Inspector Lamberton and Commander Wildes. The President looked the picture of health and vigor as he stepped from the lighthouse tender Mample and walked to his carriage, which Private Secretary Thurber had in waiting for him. The run from Norfolk was made in fair time, and it was 2:30 o'clock when the boat reached Washington. A number of people had congregated at the landing place when the President arrived. A good string of ducks, which was the best evidence of the party's luck, was taken from the vessel and distributed among the members of the party's luck, was taken from the vessel and distributed among the members of the latter of New York city; Anna Garlan Spencer, of Rhode Island, and Julia R. ANTE-HOLIDAY BUSINESS. May Be Some Lively Disputation in Congress This Week. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- This will be the last week in the House before the recess for the Christmas holidays, and practically the only thing that will be accomplished will be the appointment of the committees, which Speaker Reed will announce on Friday or Saturday when the recess is taken. As a preliminary to the appointment of the committees, however, the proceedings will probably be enlivened by a couple of days of active skirmishing. The House is operating under the rules of the Fifty-first Congress. In that Congress the membership of the leading committees, like ways and means, appropriations, judiciary, etc., was fifteen. Owing to the increase in the membership of the House, as a result of the eleventh census and the admission of the $3.50. The best of imported wine, and four Northwestern Territories in 1890, the creased in the Fifty-second Congress to seventeen. It will be necessary, therefore, to bring in amendments to the rules under to seventeen. Although the general debate committee makes its report after the holi-days, still it is not unlikely that the propo-sition to increase the membership of the Billiard Parlor committees referred to will precipitate general debate. Certainly, if it does not, another resolution to be offered to-morrow will. This will be in the shape of a resolution to divide the committee on elections. There are twenty-nine contested seats in the present House, an unprecedented number. Experience has shown that the consideration of election cases are long, tedious affairs, and it has repeatedly happened as in the last Congress, that the end of the second session and final adjournment is GEN. LOGAN'S SECRET reached with some cases still pending. The House leaders, therefore, considered it wise to divide the committee this year in order to facilitate the consideration of the cases. The Democrats charge that this plan is to be pursued that Democrats may be more promptly ousted from their seats, and the debate will doubtless develop considerable partisan rancor. In case the correspond ence over the Venezuelan boundary line be not sent to Congress to-morrow or Tuesday, a resolution calling for it may be passed. It is not improbable, also, that the report of Secretary Carlisle, which will be submitted to-morrow, may be brought before the House by some parliamentary device and made the subject of an exciting debate. ing the week on various topics now before CHICAGO, Dec. 15 .- A special to the that body. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- The officials governing the conduct of the press galleries of the House and Senate have adopted a rule that will exclude from the privileges of these galleries all legislative as well as executive clerks. Clerks to members and Senators not chiefly engaged in newspaper work are those who are affected. The prospect of applications from many clerks who depend on their salaries from members for a living, but who would represent small provincial papers, was the prime object in the adoption of the rule. The galleries are already crowded and a limit had to be suffragists throughout the country are making preparations to attend the twentyeighth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, which will assemble in Washington on the 23d of January next year. This is expected to be one of the largest as well as one of the most representative gatherings of political equality advocates ever held in the country. Assurances have been received that no less than thirty presidents of State societies will be in attendance, and large delegations from each State are expected. The official call for the convention has just been issued. It is signed by Susan B. Anbeen issued. It is signed by Susan B. Anthony, president, and Rachel Foster Avery, corresponding secretary. An admirable array of speakers will be present, including the most noted of the women suffrage exponents. ADAMS EXPRESS AGENT AT FARM-ERSBURG MAKES A HAUL.

Drove Sixteen Miles Across Country to Terre Haute, Where He Took a Midnight Train.

CAPTURED IN A THEATER

ESCAPED KENTUCKY CONVICT HAD BEEN LIVING IN ANDERSON.

Engineer Lewellen Ground to Pieces Under His Engine Near New Castle -Other State News.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 15.-George W. McCammon, the Adams Express agent and Evansville & Terre Haute railroad agent, at Farmersburg, sixteen miles from here, hired a horse and buggy in that town yesterday and said he was going to Sullivan to get a marriage license. Several hours later the superintendent of the Jackson Hill coal mine, a few miles from Farmersburg, began telegraphing about the money for pay day. The manager here had sent him $826.29 on the morning train, which arrives at Farmersburg shortly before 11

As the day passed and McCammon did not return the route agent of the express company went to Farmersburg to investigate and then drove to Sullivan, where there nation to the lock of the safe had been changed and it could not be opened. Early this morning the route agent and the liveryman at Farmersburg who let McCammon have a horse, came here, where the latter at once idemified a horse and buggy which an unknown man had abandoned at the Big Four depot last night as the 11:30 o'clock west-bound train was leaving. He had barely time to get aboard. Up to this time it had been thought that perhaps McCammon was on a spree, but the changed combination of the safe and the drive of sixteen miles in an hour and a quarter to catch the train told another story. He had nearly killed the horse in the effort. The conductor of the train says McCammon left it at Mattoon and it is thought he went south from there on ar afternoon Illinois Central train.

The safe was brought to this city this morning and a locksmith worked on it most of the day, but could not get into it. Agent Davidson, of this city, says he hopes that McCammon did not take more than $2,500, but admits that he may have obtained $4,000. There are several coal mines near Farmersburg and somtimes the money shipments are of large amounts. Most of this money comes direct from Chicago, where the mining companies' offices are located. The amount for Jackson Hill was much less than usual because the men had been on strike. Last night they were much incensed over the failure to receive pay and to-day they threatened not to return to work, asserting that the story of the absconding agent is made up for the oc-

He was under bonds both to the railroad and express company, the bond being furnished by fidelity insurance companies. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., Dec. 15 .- Almost sever years ago Robert Rich, who has passed in Anderson under the alias of Frank Freen, was doing service in the Kentucky State prison at Frankfort. With other convicts at that time working on a railroad that was being built in that section with prison Arcade file works, in this city, and a shrewd detective, learned that he was a fugitive from justice. Cardwell at that time lived in Montreal. From Windsor Rich come back to the United States and took up his residence in Painesville, O. Cardwell followed him and from there to Louisville, where they remained a few weeks. Later Rich went to Orange, Ind., but, fearing detection, soon left, and was followed by Cardwell, who was still shad-owing him, to Danville, Ill. Rich returned to Orange, where Cardwell became acquainted with the fugitive, and two years ago induced him to come to Anderson where both obtained work in the file works and where both have been ever since, Rich ing to think that he had succeeded in losing his identity. Some months ago, how-ever, Cardwell learned the story of Rich's crime and at once laid the story before local detectives in this city, who opene communication with prison authorities at Frankfort. The result of the correspondence led to his arrest.

D. K. Ray, warden of the Kentucky prison, armed with requisition papers from Governor Bradley, of Kentucky, arrived for his man. Rich was induced to accompany Cardwell to the theater last night, and the two took seats in the front of the house. Warden Ray, in company with Sheriff Starr, entered the room and walked down to the seat that Rich occupied. Sheriff Starr told Rich that he was wanted and laid a hand on his shoulder. For a moment the escaped convict paled and reached to his hip pocket, but the officer was too quick for him, and the officers led him handcuffed from the room. When searched a revolver was found on him. At the ja he consented to accompany the officer to Frankfort. They left at 3 o'clock this morning. This was his second escape from prison. He has served one term for horsestealing and was sent up again for the same crime and was serving a five-year sentence, about half of which was served.

GLASS FACTORY FIRE. Broken Gas Main Results in $5,000

Loss at Greenfield. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENFIELD, Ind., Dec. 15.-The flattening house of the S. R. Wells window-glass works burned this evening at o'clock. Superintendent John Borrey was working on a gas leak, when the connection broke and let the full force of a fourinch gas main loose in the building. Mr. Borrey, who is a powerful man, herolcally undertook to hold the gas in until the watchman could turn the gas off, but the pressure was too much for his strength and the gas escaped in spite of him, and in a few moments a terrific explosion fol-lowed, setting on fire the entire building, which was of frame. Mr. Borry managed to escape, crawling out through the fire. He was very severely burned about his face and hands, but will recover. The fire face and hands, but will recover. The fire department was called out and four streams of water were turned on, so that the flames were confined largely to the one building. It was a close call for the big factory and several other buildings. The Hollweg & Reese bottle factory was on fire several times, but was put out by volunteers. The loss on the Wells factory will be about $5,000, largely covered by insurance. The greatest loss will be in throw-ing about seventy-five men out of employ-ment for a month.

Straut Foundry Burned. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BEDFORD, Ind., Dec. 15 .- Fire broke out in N. E. Straut & Sons' foundry and machine shop last night, almost completely destroying the property. The loss will reach $5,000; insurance covers but half the amount. The origin of the fire is unknown.

R. T. M'DONALD'S POSITION. That $10,000 Story a Canard-No Anti-Harrison Feeling.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 15 .- The statement telegraphed to many papers from Indianapolis yesterday that the old anti-Harrison feeling is showing itself in this city is untrue, and it is absolutely untrue that R. T. McDonald made the idle boast that he would spend $10,000 to secure his election as national delegate from this district. It is true, he was opposed to Mr. Harrison at Minneapolis and made a strong fight against him in the convention, but he afterward supported the ticket of Harrison and Reid with his vote, time and money. In every campaign since his first vote he has contributed liberally and done very much to aid Republicanism in this district, and he is now one of the five candistrict, and he is now one of the five candistrict. didates from this county for national dele-gate. He will make an aggressive cam-paign, and, if elected, will certainly not be hostile to what seems to be the best policy for Indiana, and with his delegation will support the man who seems to be the most available and safest for the Repub-lican party.

LEWELLEN'S TERRIBLE DEATH. Fell Under His Engine Near New

Castle and Ground to Pieces. Special to the Indianapolis Journal,

RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 15.-Frank Lewellen, of this city, an engineer on the Chicago division of the Pennsylvania, met death last evening while bringing freight train No. & to this city from Logansport. Just after they had passed New Castle he noticed that the engine was not steaming right and, taking his oil can, went so and the train was stopped and search made for him. Quite a distance back the conductor and fireman of the train found his mangled remains, which they gathered up and brought to this city. The body was horribly mangled, the entire train having passed over it, the total number of cars being twenty-seven. The head, both arms and one leg were severad. Lewellen leaves a wife and one child. He was thirty-two years old and was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

INDIANA OBITUARY.

Miss June Henderson, Youngest Daughter of the Ex-State Auditor. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 15, - Miss June Henderson, youngest daughter of ex-Auditor of State Eb Henderson, died this morning at 5 o'clock, after a short illness. Her funeral will take place on Tuesday, at the Christian Church, of which she was a member. Miss Henderson was twenty-two years old. She was loved by all in her native city and had many friends in Indianapolis and elsewhere throughout the State. She was a sister-in-law of Dr. Geo. J. Cook, of Indianapolis. The younger son of State Senator W. E. McCord died this morning at his father's home, in this city. The time of his funeral is not yet known. With his death there are five people lying dead in this city to-day.

Earlham College Notes. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 15 .- Last night at Lindley Hall, under the direction of Mrs. Alice B. Husband and Money Gone. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 15 .- Mrs. Mary Gunion, of Centerville, recently married Charles J. Hallen, of Los Angeles, Cal., who had come to this county not long ago. Desiring to go into business, they moved to this city and rented a building in which they decided to live. Last week they went the first woman of the republic. It is not to be a female suffrage organization, but rather a helping hand to the "Patriots of America," who are expected to do the votover in Covington. That was the last Mrs. there are no grounds for arbitration of the Hallen has seen or heard of him. She called at the office of the hotel at which they were stopping for some money that had been placed in the safe and found her husband had taken not only what belonged to him, but also $650 of her money. She reported the matter to the police and has reurned to this city. Detective Toker, of Cincinnati, has taken the case in hand and is investigating it, on the supposition that Hallen has been foully dealt with and robbed.

Wanted to Lynch a Colored Tough. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ROCKPORT, Ind., Dec. 15.-Excitement has subsided from last night's conflict between the whites and blacks. Prompt official interference prevented the lynching of John Tinsley, the colored desperado, who recently came here from Owensboro, Ky., to show a few colored toughs here how to do up the whites. Two more arrests, con-federates of Tinsley, were made during the night. For some time past young men, white and black, have made a practice of getting drunk at night and asse the most public place, drawing pistols and fighting open battles. Stores and other buildings have been fired into and the heads of citizens fanned by the passing bullets. No legal steps have ever been taken to check these troubles or to punish the par-ticipants. The city officials sleep during the conflicts. The better citizens declare there pecial to the Indianapolis Journal. BEDFORD, Ind., Dec. 15. - Hon, F. B. Hitchcock, recorder of Lawrence county, has been seriously ill at his home for two months, and very little improvement can be noticed. Just what is the nature of his illness is a mystery, though it is thought the excessive use of cigars may have been the cause. Mr. Hitchcock is well known throughout southern Indiana, especially among the editorial fraternity, being at one time president of that association. He has been editor of the Bedford Daily and Weekly Mail for many years, and was quite active as a politician during recent years. His numerous friends will regret to learn of his serious illness.

Suicide of Photographer Reed.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 15 .- Byron Reed, a ploneer photographer of this city, committed suicide this evening. While his wife was out of the house he shot himself, holding the revolver to his right temple. A note was found by his side turning over all his property to his wife and adding the follow-

RECRUITS BEING ENLISTED IN PRIN-CIPAL AMERICAN CITIES.

One Regiment of Ten Companies in New York Armed with the Latest Improved Rifles.

FOR EMERGENCIES

NONE BUT TRUSTED MEMBERS OF THE CLAN-NA-GAEL CAN JOIN.

Leaders Give Out that They Are Collecting Troops for United States in Case of Need.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 .- A local paper tomorrow will say: For the last ten months a movement has been under way in the lodges of the Clan-na-Gael in this and other large cities to organize among the best Jrishmen military companies. In this city alone there is a well-drilled and equipped regiment of five hundred men, and companies and regiments are in process of formation in Brooklyn, Boston, Chicago and other large cities. It is said that the whole movement is a scheme to prepare a well-trained and armed body of men to be used when there is an opportunity to free Ireland. This scheme is denied by the leaders of the movement, who declare that the men are drilled for the purpose of furnishing the United States government with trained soldiers in case of an emergency, but, notwithstanding this assertion, it has leaked out that Ireland's cause is the principal object of the movement. One of the caths which every recruit takes, it is said, is to serve the cause of

According to the plan of the organizers. regiment was to be formed in this city called the First Irish Volunteers. Each company of this regiment was to be recruited from a lodge of the Clan-na-Gael, The lodges of the Clan-na-Gael interested are Geraldine, Speranza, Thomas Davis, Emmett, Owen Rhoe, Innisfail, Sunburst, Napper Tandy, Wolf Tone and Ennis Hope. No man could join a company unless he was a member of the Clan-na-Gael. After becoming a member of this organization he had to be vouched for by two well-known Irishmen before he could enlist. He also had to buy a distinct uniform and be willing to pay his prorata share of the expenses of the movement. The organizers were successful. A battalion of four companies was soon formed and the men were drilled. Recruits still came in, and to-day a regiment of ten companies has been formed, the last company being mustered in recently. Each of the ten companies has about fifty men. The uniforms used are like the regular army in every respect except cap. This headgear is shaped like the fatigue cap of the National Guard. Its body is of dark army blue, but its top is a brilliant canary yellow on which is traced in bright emerald green braid a large shamrock, signifying "the green above the orange." The arm used is a magazine rifle of the most improved style. It is a handsome weapon. The men are drilled in the latest drill regulations, including the new manual of arms, introduced in the National Guard of this State several weeks ago. Roderick Kennedy, president of the Clan-na-Gael said that the regiment was formed for the purpose of furnishing troops to the United States government in case of need. "The expense of the movement is paid partly by the lodges and partly by the members," he continued, "We have two splendid battalions, one of which drills on Monday and the other on Thursday. The Crystal Palace is being fitted up with a gymnasium and other necessities for a young men's military organization. A mili tary board is in control."

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY. Vice President Says England Has No Claim Worthy of Arbitration.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 15 .- According to Thomas S. Newell, who was elected Delegate to Congress from Alaska last summer, Vice President Stevenson has expressed himself as being of the opinion disputed boundary line between Canada and Alaska, and if England thought otherwise she would have to fight for her rights. Newell came down from Alaska with Vice President Stevenson from his northern tour last summer, and in a recent letter to the Alaska Mining Record from Boston Newell "I find the sentiment of the people in regard to the boundary lines of the territory between British Columbia and Alaska in favor of standing by the boundary line that was established in 1824. The sentiment here was established in 1824. The sentiment here is very decided that under no circumstances will they give up one lota of territory that we have acquired by purchase from Russia. In an interview with Vice President Stevenson on my way down from Alaska he was very decided in his opinions in regard to the boundary line. He considered there was no question to arbitrate, and if England thought she had any rights in that direction she would have to fight for them; that they did not propose to accord England the least might bring up in regard to the Territory of Alaska. MAKING A CARDINAL. Formalities in Which Mgr. Satolif Will Figure.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- A very simple yet interesting ceremony in connection with the elevation of Mgr. Satolli to the cardinalate will take place at the Catholic legation in this city preliminary to the conferring of the beretta on the new cardinal. This will be the delivery to him by the Pope's messenger, now on his way to this country, with the zucchetto. This is the red skull cap, which, with a letter from the consistory, the cardinal's official announcement of his elevation to his new position. In the presence of a few persons, comprising probably the rector of the Catholic University, summoned by the Pope's messenger, and the officials of the legation, the noble guard, as the messenger is called, will hand to Mge. Satolli the box containing the cap and the consistory letter. The Monsignor will then call on some one present to read the letter, after which he will open the box and place the cap on his head. This will end the ceremony which is a necessary preliminary in all cases of the elevation of persons to the cardinalate. Dr. Rooker, Mgr. Satolli's secretary, will leave for New York to meet the Pope's messenger, who is expected from Europe about Wednesday.

The Chosen Friends Decision. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 15.—In the suit of Black against the Supreme Council, Order of Chosen Friends, Judge Field, Sattained the order on every point, holding that the changes and amendments in the plan recently adopted were made in good faith by the officers and that they were valid and authorized. This case has created great interest throughout the whole country, as the questions involved were vital not only to this, but to a number of similar orders. urday, in the Jefferson Circuit Court, sus-
